Annual Report of Disciplinary Cases
2010-2011

Mission Statement

Student Judicial Services strives to support the educational mission of The University of Texas at Austin by upholding University standards of student conduct and academic integrity through a fair and objective process.

By fostering self-reflection, promoting civility, and encouraging personal responsibility, Student Judicial Services strives to ensure a safe and healthy campus community.

Student Judicial Services demonstrates its commitment to the principles of due process and to the principles of student rights and responsibilities through ongoing outreach, continual education, and thorough case management.

Student Judicial Services
Office of the Dean of Students
Division of Student Affairs
The University of Texas at Austin
STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES

Student Judicial Services strives to assure a fair and objective process consistent with the Institutional Rules on Student Services and Activities of the University of Texas at Austin as well as other due process requirements.

Student Judicial Services strives to uphold the high behavioral and academic standards articulated in the Institutional Rules on Student Services and Activities of the University of Texas at Austin.

Student Judicial Services strives to hold students accountable for their actions and to address all behavioral concerns with students in a manner that fosters self-reflection, a greater awareness of their obligations within the larger communities to which they belong, and a greater sense of the personal responsibility they have for their choices, the consequences of those choices, and the direction of their lives.

Student Judicial Services strives to handle all matters with which it is charged in as efficient a manner as possible, making best use of limited time and human resources so that all behavioral concerns are addressed in a timely fashion without undue delay. Student Judicial Services recognizes that conduct standards are most effective when unacceptable behavior is addressed swiftly.
Introduction

Student Judicial Services (SJS) in the Office of the Dean of Students promotes academic integrity and appropriate standards of conduct for the University community. SJS makes presentations to students, staff, and faculty, and produces publications concerning the rights and responsibilities of University community members. Additionally, SJS is responsible for investigating alleged violations of the Institutional Rules on Student Services and Activities (Issue Number 2010/4) and for implementing the discipline process.

SJS receives information regarding alleged violations of the Institutional Rules from various University departments and offices (e.g., University Police Department, Computation Center, Division of Housing & Food Services) as well as other sources such as faculty, staff, and students. Cases involving academic dishonesty are resolved through the University’s judicial process by SJS staff, faculty, or hearing officers. Non-academic matters are resolved by SJS staff or hearing officers.

This report contains information on referrals to SJS concerning alleged violations of the Institutional Rules committed during the 2010-2011 academic year and related demographic data. Several sources were used in preparing this report. Data on disciplinary matters were compiled directly from SJS case records. Comparative enrollment data were obtained from the Statistical Handbook prepared by the Office of Information Management and Analysis.

For additional information on SJS responsibilities, refer to “Student Discipline and Conduct” in the General Information catalog, Appendix C, Chapter 11, or visit the SJS web site at http://deanofstudents.utexas.edu/sjs/.

Student Judicial Services is located in the Office of the Dean of Students in suite 4.104 of the Student Services Building, 100 West Dean Keeton Street. If you have any questions about this report, please feel free to call our office at 512-471-2841.
Academic Year Summary

Our office received over 1,627 referrals concerning alleged violations of the Institutional Rules committed during the 2010-2011 academic year and opened 1,380 cases. One hundred and seventy-eight cases involving incidents of academic dishonesty were resolved by faculty members using the University’s disciplinary process. The remaining 1,202 cases (non-academic and academic) were handled by SJS staff and include cases resolved administratively or through a University hearing, as well as 18 cases that remain pending. Eleven of the 1,202 cases were ultimately resolved through a disciplinary hearing. One case was dismissed by staff members who determined that no rules had been violated and that the allegations could not be substantiated.

Of the 965 non-academic cases, 299 of those cases involved alcohol. Eighty-seven of these cases were resolved without a finding of a violation and are not reflected in the “Violation” and “Sanction” charts. However, in six of those cases, students still participated in an alcohol education program or individual consultation.

In addition to handling student discipline cases, SJS processes other requests and referrals that are not reflected in the total number of cases. For instance, through the end of October of the 2010-2011 academic year, SJS also received 660 informational referrals from Information Technology Services’ Information Security Office regarding alleged violations of the federal Digital Millennium Copyright Act. SJS continues to collaborate with other offices in responding to these referrals. Furthermore, an estimated 6,027 requests were received regarding student record checks and certifications.

Throughout the academic year, SJS consulted with and presented to faculty, staff, and students concerning a variety of issues related to student conduct matters. We look forward to continuing and expanding these outreach efforts.
